Improve Your Resiliency

Receive guidance and hands-on assistance on the capabilities of the Taegis platform from Secureworks security experts. Schedule phone calls and online meetings with our staff to receive “over-the-shoulder” training and get answers to questions to maximize your use of Taegis. Consult with Secureworks’ experts to mature your security program with included Secureworks Service Units, which are redeemable for a variety of our proactive service offerings, including Consulting, Incident Response, and Taegis Professional Services. Use Service Units toward additional Taegis scenario-based training, build integrations between your security infrastructure and Taegis, develop or test your incident response plan, or test your security controls to elevate your security posture and fortify your defenses against cyber threats.

Receive Strategic Security Guidance

Work with our SecOps experts to develop custom use cases for your security and posture needs based on your organization’s priorities. Select from a wide range of rules and workflows curated by our team based on our years of security experience. Secureworks will consult with you on the design of the rule, test the rule, and set up automated investigations and notifications. Additionally, all customers receive one included Taegis XDR Health Check per year. The Taegis XDR Health Check assesses how you are using various capabilities of Taegis, provides actionable guidance, and works with you to review and implement recommendations to elevate your security resiliency and optimize Taegis in your environment.
